DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/09/09 has been entered.

Inventorship

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 23, 26-31, and 36-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sunshine et al. (6,085,576) in view of Goodman et al. (6,495,892).

Claims 23, 26-31, and 36-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sunshine et al. (6,839,636) in view of Goodman et al. (6,495,892).

These rejections were maintained in the previous Office Action (mailed 07/07/09). They remain in effect for claims 23, 26-31, 36, and also apply to new claims 37 and 38. Please see Response to Arguments below.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 11/09/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that adding a passivation layer to the sensor modules of the '576 and '636 patents would hamper their performance or render them entirely unsuitable for detecting analytes. The Examiner respectfully disagrees and notes that Goodman teaches several different embodiments having the passivation layer. These embodiments are shown in Figures 4, 9, 10 and 13. These embodiments teach operable sensors having sensor elements with a passivation layer as recited in the instant claims. Therefore, the Examiner submits that one of ordinary skill in the art would be enabled to add the passivation layer from Goodman to provide an operable sensor device.

5. Applicant has further noted that the claims have been amended to recite a passivation layer that must be placed such that the second sensing element is blocked from analyte or analyte is slowed in reaching the second sensing element. Applicant then argued that this limitation is sufficient to distinguish the instant claims over the prior art Goodman. The Examiner respectfully disagrees and submits that these features are indeed taught by Goodman. The Examiner directs Applicant to Figure 13 and column 18, lines 21-41 of Goodman which teaches an embodiment having one sensor covered by a material that allows the analyte to contact the sensing element and another sensor covered by a material that prevents the analyte from contacting the sensing element.
